6. [redacted] Spoke to Hilda Schreiber, OMB, and asked if the Department of State's legislative proposal of 7 February 1973 concerning funding should be adopted in the CIA Retirement Act amendments we were currently proposing to OMB for clearance prior to transmittal to the Congress. Schreiber said there was no guarantee that State's proposal in this respect would be acceptable to all parties concerned and recommended we not change our proposal at this time.

Concerning Chairman Ichord's request on the House Internal Security Committee's report on the Federal Civilian Employee Loyalty Program (see Journal of 7 February 1973), Schreiber said that there was no need to clear our views with OMB and suggested that any further coordination we might desire would involve contacting Tony Mondello, General Counsel, Civil Service Commission. Subsequently, Mr. Warner, OGC, and I agreed that Mondello would not have a significant input for our comments to Chairman Ichord. I called Al Nittle, Legislative Counsel, House Internal Security Committee, the staff employee principally responsible for the report, and outlined the general nature of a proposed response to Ichord, which Nittle found fully responsive to the Committee's needs.
